President's Message

Dr. Barbara Denson Trotter
President
The Ivy Centennial Foundation, Inc.

Dear Supporters,

We are pleased to present our impact report, showcasing the remarkable achievements and milestones reached by The Ivy Centennial Foundation, Inc. over the past year. We are proud to have expanded our educational outreach to include students studying at trade schools and 2-year certificate programs.

In this report, we begin with honoring ten years of service and commitment to the community at large. We have included a special segment for you entitled, 'ICF's Journey: 2014-2024', which highlights the historical path we embarked on to build the non-profit entity we know today as ICF.

I am encouraged to report that ICF has significantly expanded its scholarship funding support since 2014. This growth reflects our commitment to accessibility and equity for our students.

I would like to express our sincere gratitude for the long-term association with the Maurice Amado Foundation. Support and recommendations made by Dr. Elaine Lindheim and David Lindheim of the Maurice Amado Foundation greatly enhanced the ICF Scholarship Program.

The unwavering support of all community donors has been instrumental in allowing us to drive our mission forward while creating an indelible impact on the communities we serve..

Both the Ivy Centennial Foundation members and the Board of Directors thank you for your continued trust and generosity.

Sincerely,
Barbara Denson Trotter, Ed.D.

ICF Mission and Purpose

The Ivy Centennial Foundation, Incorporated (ICF) was conceived by a group of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority women in the Los Angeles County of California who were members of Mu Lambda Omega Chapter in the West Los Angeles/Culver City area. In 2014, these ladies set out to create a non-profit entity that would provide scholarships and educational benefits to high school seniors. By 2019 ICF members realized that there were other community needs in addition to education and scholarships; and so they expanded their focus. The Ivy Centennial Foundation, Inc. of today addresses education along with other community needs.

ICF is building a stronger community for all ages by encouraging and promoting physical and mental health, financial well-being, and fostering experiences and opportunities to transform the lives of vulnerable populations in our community and beyond.

ICF creates meaningful programs and projects aimed at improving the health and well-being of our community.

ICF's Journey: 2014 to 2024

ICF'S JOURNEY COMPRISED OF FOUR PILLARS

- Pillar I - Commitment to the Unifying Motto, 'Service to All Mankind'
- Pillar II - Investment in Our Community
- Pillar III - Investment in Education
- Pillar IV - Belief in Our Youth

Pillar I - Service to All Mankind

Lora Stewart
Charter Member AKA
Culver City Chapter

"I chuckle when I think about how the idea of a nonprofit came to me," says Lora Stewart, one of the charter members of Mu Lambda Omega, Culver City chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha. "I was doing one of my favorite past times, shopping for shoes at Bloomingdales Department store. I was approached by another shoe shopper that paid me a compliment about my jewelry. I happened to be wearing my AKA jewelry that day.

I shared what our organization's focus was and she shared about her involvement with the Weingart Foundation in Los Angeles. Weingart was seeking opportunities to partner with organizations focused on providing services and building power in communities of color. They wanted to donate funds for scholarships. She asked if we were a 501(c)3 organization.....I immediately contacted our chapter president."

Adrienne Byers
Attorney
Past 501(c)(3) Committee Chairman

"The members of the "Small but Mighty" Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority Incorporated, Culver City Chapter were purpose driven when they set the intention to broaden their presence within the community to offer more educational scholarships to our youth. Many potential community partners were seeking mutual benefit to support achievement of the youth and economic growth of the African American Community. I led the team that investigated, established bylaws and provided the framework that led to our filing of our non-profit incorporation in November 2014. All the members of the executive leadership within the chapter lent their time and talents to build what we know as ICF today."

Pillar I – Service to All Mankind

Annetta Lawrence
1st ICF Board President

“Shortly after the 501(c)(3) was filed, the opportunity presented itself to submit a proposal for a major contribution that would re-format the structure of the scholarship program. I wrote the first grant proposal that resulted in the Maurice Amado Foundation donation for the ICF educational scholarship program.”

Helen Clemmons, Ed.D.
1st Donor-Advised Scholarship

“I was motivated to increase the number of scholarships that we gave out to our community. So I donated a gift for education in 2019. My mother was my inspiration. She accomplished so much. I wanted the scholarship to give students a life-changing opportunity.”

ICF furnishes the Ivy Reading Room for the Grand Opening of Veterans Housing

When Community Partner, Step Up /VASH, extended an invitation to ICF to participate in the Grand Opening of permanent supportive housing for Veterans, ICF said 'yes' to enhancing a room allocated for reading. ## Inspiring Future Generations: Full Circle Moments

Our Former ICF Scholars have made impactful contributions to society, driving change and improving lives through their work and community engagement.

Their journeys serve as an inspiration to future generations, showcasing the importance of dedication, persistence, and scholarly pursuits.

Here are a few 'full circle moments'.

Kierra Buckley

Dear Ivy Centennial Foundation,

I hope this message finds you well. My name is Kiera Buckley, and I am a graduating senior majoring in psychology with a minor in criminology at Howard University. Hailing from the vibrant city of Los Angeles, California, I had the honor of receiving a scholarship from the Ivy Centennial Foundation in 2022, which graciously contributed $5,000 towards my tuition.

Fast forward to May 10th, 2025, when I will be celebrating my graduation a year ahead of schedule at the youthful age of 20, and I am proud to say I will emerge debt-free as a first-generation college student. I am aware that the Ivy Centennial Foundation offers scholarships annually, accompanied by a recognition ceremony to honor recipients. If it is possible, I would be truly grateful for the opportunity to participate in the ceremony and share my journey through Howard University, highlighting how scholarships have profoundly influenced my collegiate experience. I am eager to assist in any way as I prepare to return to Los Angeles to pursue my MSW degree at CSULB.

Warm regards,

Kiera Buckley

Inspiring Future Generations: Full Circle Moments

Hello Ivy Centennial Foundation and The Maurice Amado Foundation,

I am Brock Headen. You awarded me a scholarship in 2018. Let me tell you how I used that award. I attended Tulane University in New Orleans, Louisiana, and graduated summa cum laude in May, 2022. I earned a bachelor's degree in Engineering Physics with a concentration in Mechanical Engineering.

I went to Katsikas, Greece where I am volunteered in a nearby refugee community, building machinery and teaching the people to make tools that support their households and began learning the Greek language.

I extend my heartfelt gratitude to you for your unconditional belief in me and your amazing support of my educational pursuits. As you have blessed me with your scholarship, I hope to be a blessing to others.

Community Engagement Matters

Community Engagement Programs

Through the generosity of donors and dedicated supporters, The Ivy Centennial Foundation has been able to bridge gaps in education, cultivate STEM enthusiasm, and elevate community engagement.

Educational Enrichment

By providing resources like the Green Aaron STEM Mini-Grant, educators are empowered to transform traditional classrooms into hubs of innovation, sparking creativity and curiosity in young minds. Programs such as the Wilder's Preparatory Academy Wind Turbine Project exemplify how targeted investments in education can shape the future by nurturing problem-solving skills and environmental awareness among students.

Humanitarian Outreach

Community Matters to all of us at ICF. We have placed the emphasis on 'Compassion' for our community. ICF has embraced our local and global populations by our participation in large scale collaborations with AKA Culver City chapter, refugee/migrant rights organizations, multiple faith-based groups to deliver community service projects that reach across counties, engaging both youth and adults, while enhancing their knowledge and understanding of their global neighbors.

EDUCATIONAL ENRICHMENT:

I would like to express my heartfelt gratitude for the Green Aaron STEM Mini-Grant. This generous support has made a meaningful impact on my 8th grade students as they engaged deeply with the engineering design process through hands-on exploration of clean, renewable energy using wind turbine models. This project not only highlighted the significance of sustainable energy solutions but also deepened students' understanding. Your support made this authentic learning experience possible.

Thank you again.

Looking Ahead to 2026 and Beyond...

With your continued support, we aim to:

- Invite our young ICF Alumni to establish a Pathways to Success or Next Gen Achievement Award
- Expand scholarship opportunities with multiple pathways for education to meet the diverse community we serve
- Secure funding to strengthen day-to-day operations and administration of the foundation
- Enhance programs that offer a greater impact for educational advancement
- Strengthen community partnerships that demonstrate shared goals that are mutually beneficial to begin the acquisition of real estate for a community center, or affordable housing for senior living

Innovative Advancements

To realize these aspirations, we plan to collaborate with local businesses and civic organizations, forging partnerships that address both educational and environmental challenges. By integrating real-world applications into our curriculum and outreach programs, we aim to inspire students to become thoughtful innovators and community leaders. Additionally, we envision hosting workshops and forums that bring together educators, students, and stakeholders to share ideas and strategies for impactful change.
